RELEASE IN FULL
Tumbling Rock Cave

CAUTION: READ AND UNDERSTAND BEFORE SIGNING. THIS MAY AFFECT LEGAL RIGHTS YOU MIGHT HAVE.

WHEREAS, you desire to explore Tumbling Rock Cave, which is owned by Evalene and Billy Precise and is managed by Tumbling Rock, Inc., an Alabama corporation, you acknowledge that Billy and Evalene Precise and Tumbling Rock, Inc. have made no representations to you as to the condition of the cave; and

WHEREAS, there may be hazards involved in cave exploring that are hidden or not apparent, you acknowledge that you are aware of the natural hazards that may be encountered. You further acknowledge that you are aware that cave exploring may be a strenuous activity that could cause or contribute to cause injuries or damages; and

WHEREAS, you have been advised that neither Evalene nor Billy Precise nor Tumbling Rock, Inc. nor the Southeastern Cave Conservancy, Inc. (SCCi) or any of its agents or employees are aware of all existing or potential conditions that might possibly be or create a hazard while exploring Tumbling Rock Cave. There may well be dangers involved in the exploration of the cave that may or may not be obvious. None of the parties to be released can warn you of every potential hazard but there are hazards that may exist, including but not limited to: deep or rising water, shifting or falling rocks, slippery surfaces, holes in the floor, narrow cracks and crevices, small crawl-ways, mud, insect or animal bites, and any other conditions that are not inherently dangerous but which could cause injury; and

WHEREAS by signing this release and entering Tumbling Rock Cave you assume the risk of these and any other potential hazards. Since cave exploring may be strenuous, if you have a health condition, you need to evaluate whether or not you are physically able to participate in what could be a strenuous activity. With this knowledge you desire to enter and explore Tumbling Rock Cave and agree to assume any risks that might be involved in such activity.
